

Endobronchial Ultrasound with Fine Needle Aspiration Biopsy (EBUS with FNA Bx)

EBUS with fine needle aspiration biopsy is a minimally invasive way to get tissue samples without creating too much discomfort and without the need for surgery.

This is done to diagnose and stage lung cancer, evaluate pulmonary nodules, detect lung infections, and identify other diseases that can affect the lungs or cause enlarged lymph nodes in the chest.